Provisions of this contract and conditions arising from some other extraneous irrevocable contract:

A. Wife set out the following provision: If the petition for divorce is not made by her; and, as discerned by the court, the petition is not occasioned owing to her breach of wifely duties, her bad morals or misbehavior, the husband is bound to transfer to her up to half of his existing assets, as determined by the court, (or the equivalent) acquired by him during married life with her, free of consideration.

Signed by Husband and Wife

B. As a provision of this contract, Husband gave Wife an irrevocable power, with authority to delegate, to, in the following cases, apply to the court to obtain a decree and get any type of divorce she opts for; and also Husband gave Wife an irrevocable power, with authority to delegate, to accept the bestowal, in case she offers it.

Signed by Husband and Wife

The cases in which Wife can apply to the court for the issuance of a decree to get a divorce:

1) Husband's refusal to provide maintenance for Wife for a period of 6 months under any pretext where binding him over to do so is impossible. And also, when Husband does not, for a period of 6 months, observe her other essential rights where compelling him to oblige is infeasible.

Signed by Husband and Wife

2) Husband's misbehavior or ill-natured socialization to such an extent that makes it insupportable for Wife to continue living.

Signed by Husband and Wife

3) Husband's suffering from refractory diseases that render the continuance of married life perilous for Wife.

4) Husband's insanity in cases where dissolution of marriage is canonically impossible.

6) Husband's being sentenced to 5 years or more in prison or to a pecuniary punishment that he is incapable of paying and as a result of which he is detained for 5 years or to imprisonment and a pecuniary punishment that lead to 5 years or more in detention combined where the verdict is being executed.

Signed by Husband and Wife

7) Husband's involvement in any kind of harmful addiction that, as judged by the court, would imperil the familial life and render the continuance of life difficult for Wife.

Signed by Husband and Wife

8) Husband's desertion of the family without any acceptable reason. Determination of the desertion and acceptability of the reason lie with the court. Or, if he is absent for 6 consecutive months without an acceptable excuse, in court's opinion.

Signed by Husband and Wife

9) Finalized conviction of Husband for having committed a crime and the execution of any type of punishment as a consequence of having committed a crime inconsistent with Wife's familial prestige and status. The determination of the fact that the punishment is contrary to the familial prestige and status or not lies with the court that is to consider Wife's status, position, customs, and other criteria.

Signed by Husband and Wife
